

IO1 – Practical Guide is now out!

The MYW practical guide for bringing labs to life has a threefold objective:

- To describe successful stories to inspire the organisations at the beginning of the path or striving for further development of such LABs;
- To support the establishment of new LABs, by understanding which factors are common to the Fab Labs/Labs success;
- To inspire current and/or future Lab users;

Make Your Way Training

During one week, partners from Portugal, Spain, Poland and Czech Republic were trained on soft and technical skills that Vocational Education and Training (VET) students can develop while working at Fab Labs. The week included several interactive groups training on business soft skills – teamwork, leadership, business planning and customer orientation – as well as hard skills such as construction or 3D printer.
